REPUBLICANS SUFFER FROM NERVES TO-DAY

Leaders Worried by Primary Fight in City and by Race-Track Gambling.

TIP ODELL TO WIN.

*Up-State Bosses Ready to Rally to Him if He "Downs" Parsons and Woodruff.

ALBANY, March 30 .- There are a lot oks of uncertainty as to the outcome of the battle which former Gov. Odell is waging against "Dear Herbert" Parwins in Manhattan, the result of which will be known by to-night.

Pretty nearly all the "rooting" is for Mr. Odell, and there will be a lot of genuine disappointment if he fails in his purpose. Just what he thinks of his chances is not known, because he is not eaying a word. All the talking seems to be done by the other side which is a sure indication of defeat according to modern political standards.

If Mr. Odell should grab off a victory number of up-State leaders who have been waiting to crawl under the tent of regular political organization will be up bright and early to-morrow looking for a soft place to fall. The control of the New York County Committee and the consequent humiliation of young Parsons and State Chairman "Tim" Woodruff are not the only prizes Mr. Odell is battling for with a good chance

If he shows a substantial gain in New York County he will have the support of pretty nearly all the leaders of influence in the rural districts, who are epparently tiring of reform. He has been told as much by such practical bosses as George Aldridge "Lou" Payn, George Dunn, George Malby, Frank S. Black, Sloat Fassett, Francis Hendricks, and, in fact, all the old-time leaders. any play politics by taking sides has been of tremendous advantage to Mr. his consistency ever since.

It was his classing to associate the ring to battle and wien alone he would sake to his kness and say his prayers. He also carried with him into the ring a talisman of the church.

In fourteen battles he came off victorious. Then he refired, and is now a sturdy, settled chap, mild-mannered and very smisble.

The car was passing under a steep The car was passing under a steep embankment about one hundred feet sheer above the car tracks when the motorman in the light of an arc lamp there saw the enormous boulder come leaping and bounding down the slope in a direction that would land it squarely on top on the car. He put on power and the car shot ahead, but it did not gather way as fast as the stone, which landed on its roof and crashed through.

All the passengers received minor injuries from the shower of glass from the broken windows of the vehicle and Miss Lacy Haney, a public school teacher, of No. 288 Pavonia avenue, was so badly shaken and cut that she had to be taken to her home in a cab.

THE LONESOMETOWN SONG.

Billy Gaston's Song, "Gee! But This Is a Lonesome Towrn," was so good that Kolb and Dill, the San Francisco to New York Laugh Makers, named their show after it. It's a great song. The Sunday World will give the words and musle next Sunday, with a conic illustrated cover in colors showing Kolb and Dill in character. Don't forget. Next Sunday. Order from newsdealer to-day.
